

26 MAR 1971

Mr. Albert E. Brown, Security Officer
Office of Management and Budget
Room 243, Executive Office Building
17th and Pennsylvania Avenue,
Washington, D. C. 20505.

STATINTL

Dear Mr. Brown,

This letter will affirm that [REDACTED] a career employee of the Central Intelligence Agency, is presently writing for our official and internal use only a classified history of this Agency.

His work will cover the years 1939 to 1947 and will trace the events leading, first to the establishment of the Office of the Coordinator of Information in 1941, then to the replacement of that Office by the Office of Strategic Services in 1942, and finally to the birth of the Agency in 1947.

STATINTL

[REDACTED] has already received generous assistance on an earlier project from both Mrs. Gertrude Long and Mr. Melvin Margerum of your Records Section, and it is my understanding that this letter will enable them to extend that assistance to his present project.

STATINTL

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
HUGH T. CUNNINGHAM
Director of Training
